

The Evening Post.

PHILADELPHIA.

Saturday, October 19, 1822.

Phases of the most daring and atrocious character are daily accumulating. It would seem, is literally covered with piratical cruizers, who, sailing under different flags, commit their depredations indiscriminately on all vessels that are not fortunate enough to elude their depredations. The cruel and unrelenting acts of these freebooters beggars all descriptions. The uncivilized savages have more regard for the feelings of humanity—they do not torture their victims with such sanguinary ferocity. Such is the impunity of these desperadoes, and the impotence of the government of Cuba, that regular fortifications are now built on the island—one in the neighbourhood of San Antonio, and another upon Cayo Romano, in the old Bahama Channel, &c. &c. with Sugar-Key for a look out, and upon every defenceless vessel, and frequently murder whole crews, after committing a thousand different excesses.

The Charleston papers are filled with accounts of fresh depredations, committed by the pirates, issuing from the island of Cuba. These marauders have adopted a new method of extorting money from the unfortunate persons who fall into their hands. After binding the captives and subjecting them to a confession of where their money is hidden, they place them over a slow fire and roast them into a confession of where their money is hidden. In one case, that of the brig La Florida, from St. Jago de Cuba, the captain, his brother and the passengers, were hauled below round the mainmast, a fire made round them, and they were roasted until nearly roasted. The fire was extinguished, life was hard on the captives, and they were roasted until nearly roasted. The fire was extinguished, life was hard on the captives, and they were roasted until nearly roasted.

The account which we published in our last, detailing a number of disastrous occurrences which took place during the late gale at Charleston, S. C. were trifling in comparison with the destruction which accompanied the tornado in its course over the different plantations and adjacent islands. We copy the following from the National Intelligencer, which will afford some idea of the effects of this awful calamity, as our limits would barely afford us room to enter into a detail of them.

By a gentleman from Marion Court House we learn, that one of his neighbors had returned from Georgetown to Marion Court House by water, since the gale, did not see a house standing on the banks of the river, such had been the destruction on the Rice plantations. Such had been the universal prostration of trees on wooded land, that communication was totally cut off by the roads, and almost entirely to between even contiguous plantations. Upwards of 30 men employed in endeavoring to clear the road of impediments, had, in several days not been able to make greater progress than a mile per day. The roads, indeed, were almost obliterated, and with difficulty to be found. A stout man with an excellent horse, in two days was able to travel but 14 miles, though making every effort to advance. In short, nothing was ever heard of, exceeding the horrors of this storm. It lasted about four hours.

By accounts from Alvarado, dated the 12th inst. it appears that the Emperor Iturbide is being the tyrant in high style. On the 26th of August, he caused to be arrested forty-five or fifty individuals, among whom, were 13 members of the Congress then sitting in the city of Mexico. On the next day, a proclamation, signed by the Emperor, was issued, announcing to the people that the cause for this measure, the existence of a conspiracy against the actual government. After some days, the Congress presented to the Emperor a memorial praying that their fellow citizens in captivity should be forthwith brought to trial, punished if guilty, liberated if innocent. The reply to this document was by no means a favorable one; it threw reflections on the body, and concluding with the declaration that they should be governed by better principles, the Emperor would be under the hard necessity of disregarding the laws which should emanate from that body.

By accounts from the schr. Dauntless, arrived at Baltimore from Lagaira, states that the day before she sailed, information was received of the capture of Maracaibo by Gen. Paez, without opposition. Gen. Paez, with 5000 men, had marched some days previous for Maracaibo, and General Southerland was to leave Curacao next day for the same place with a like number. The ship sailed from Lagaira for Maracaibo a week before.

A letter from Caracas, under date of the 15th of September, says, the commander of the Patriot Fleet has orders to attack the naval force under Morales, as he is unaccompanied by the frigate Ligera.

The variety of places of public amusement, wonderful performances and strange sights which are about in this good city of brotherly love, the Serpents, which was caught on the shore of New Jersey a few months past, and now exhibiting at No. 254 Market street, near 20th, is certainly not the least, being more than 20 feet in length, and 18 in circumference. Per-sonally, before this, of beholding one of the numbers of the great deep, of such dimensions, and of such magnitude, may not, shortly, again.

CIRCUS.—We witnessed Mr. Winter's last appearance on Wednesday evening last. The reception he met with from a numerous and fashionable audience, must have been gratifying to his feelings as the singular and wonderful feats which he displayed were calculated to elicit plaudits from every beholder. In riding, Mr. H. far surpasses any other performer that has come under our notice, both for his easy and graceful deportment during the performance, and the manner in which he manages his horse, without Saddle or Bridle. The acquisition of such talents are calculated doubly to enhance the pleasure which is to be derived from attending our Equestrian exhibitions—they not only present very great attractions in themselves, but will serve to render the rest of the corps still more ambitious and enterprising in their endeavours to excel.

The new ship Alexander, owned by T. P. Cope & Sons, now lying at Walnut street wharf, and which vessel is intended by these enterprising merchants as one of a regular line of packets between this port and Liverpool, attracts by her splendid accommodations, the visits of admiring crowds. Hangings of damask crimson silk, and Brussels carpets of the most elegant patterns, adorn the sides and floors of her cabin state rooms, and the other furniture corresponds in beauty, forming a tout ensemble not surpassed by any vessel in this country.

More Pirates taken.—By the schooner Richard, arrived on Thursday evening from Havana, we learn that the United States sloop of war Peacock, had taken five piratical schooners, three of which she burnt. The remaining two she took possession of, and one of them arrived at Havana the day the Richard sailed. The Peacock secured twenty-five prisoners; the remainder succeeded in making their escape.—N. Y. Adv.

Deaths during the last week. In this city, the total number of deaths were 73—adults 47, children 26. Of these, there were 22 cases of different grades of fever. In New-York, there were 70 deaths, viz. adults 36, children 34.—Twice died of the yellow fever, and twice four new cases were reported. In Baltimore, the deaths amounted to 75—adults 39, children 36.—Forty three persons died of the fever.

MURDER.—On Wednesday morning last, our Jeremiah Rhind, who had been taken up the night previous, at his house in Delancy street, N. York, for the crime of murder, was brought before a magistrate, when the following circumstances were given in evidence against him. Rhind had contracted a jealousy of the unfortunate victim of his vengeance in regard to his wife. On the night which preceded the catastrophe, having somewhere fallen in with Findley, he invited and pressed him home to his house, where he regaled him till the full hour of bedtime in all the seeming warmth of friendship. Findley was then retiring, but Rhind insisted that he should still remain, and finally that he should stay all night and sleep with him, and that his wife should take another bed. Rhind, unopposed, was weak enough to yield to his persuasions, and went to bed with him. Rhind rose in the night, when he found Findley sound asleep, fell on him with a heavy pair of tongs, beating him most abominably on the head, and, as would seem from the coroner's report of the mangled state in which it appeared on the inquest, the left temple particularly was completely stove in, and the bone demolished, nor did he desist till his death must have been truly effected.

Local Affairs. Judge Peters has placed in the conversation room of the Athenaeum, to be exhibited there for one week, the model of the stepping mill used in several prisons in England, for the purpose of employing the convicts constantly. It is the intention of the Judge to forward it to Harrisburg at the time of the meeting of the Legislature.

The corner stone of St. Matthew's Church, at the corner of Schuylkill north Fourth, and Powell street, was laid this week, by the Rev. Bishop White. This is the third Episcopal Church, founded in Philadelphia and its suburbs, during the present year, besides others of different denominations.

The keel of an 120 gun ship will be laid at our Navy Yard, next week. The building of this splendid vessel will go on under the immediate direction of Captain Barnard.

At a meeting of the Commissioners of the Incorporated District of the N. Liberties, on Tuesday last, DANIEL GROVES, Esq. was elected President of the Board, for the ensuing year.

The Select and Common Councils of this city, at their assembly on Tuesday morning last, unanimously re-elected ROBERT WHARTON, Esq. Mayor, for the ensuing year.

We understand, that Colonel Robert Patterson, of this city, was the fortunate holder of the ticket in the Second class of the Pennsylvania State Lottery, which on Tuesday last drew the prize of Eight thousand dollars.

A sick man, unable to speak so as to be understood, was found upon the Darby road, on the 10th inst. and carried into the house of Hugh Rogers, on the said road, about three quarters of a mile from the Permanent Bridge, where he died in about 24 hours after. He was dressed in the habit of a working man and had with him a bundle of clothes.

The number of applicants for the benefit of the insolvent laws, to the court now in session, is not less than three hundred.

The importance of a vote.—We are informed that Col. Forrest is elected to supply the vacancy in the present Congress, occasioned by the resignation of William Milnor, by a majority of one vote, over Daniel H. Miller, Esq. the Democratic candidate.

At the late election, the borough of Hanover, which contains two hundred taxables, gave eight votes.

The Governor has issued his warrant for the execution of David Lampher. It is to take place at Meadville, on Friday the first day of November next. This is the second case of the same unpleasant nature, that has come before the present Governor since his installation.

THE NEWS FROM FRANCE.

By an arrival from France, accounts have been received, which differ considerably in complexion from the advice we have for some time past published relative to the affairs of the Greeks and Turks. The French accounts state that the Greeks had been defeated in several engagements. They are quoted from the Austrian Observer, which rests its belief of this fact on letters from Trieste and Augsburg, which allude to the original invasion of Chourchid Pacha into the Morea. It appears, that previous to the 25th of July the Greeks were retreating in every direction, and that the Turkish Pacha was in full march for Corinth. Determined however, to conquer or die, the invaded rallied their forces, and attacked the invaders, whom they defeated with the loss of 3000 killed, besides prisoners and wounded. Subsequent accounts from Ipsara, speak confidently of the Turks having been constantly beaten "since the brilliant affairs of the 25th and 26th of July," and that "there remain very few of the 25,000 men who entered the Morea." Although these advantages on the side of the patriots are not so great as at first represented, the victory appears nevertheless to have been decisive, and to have compelled the Turkish commander to retrace his steps.

THE TREADING MILLS. One of the late London papers announces the singular fact, that on the 12th of September, at the Town-hall, Southwark, there was no charge, either of felony, misdemeanor, or assault, within the extensive district of five parishes, from the night before. Comes all this descriptions had lessened very much, and this decrease, it is said, is owing entirely to the heavy and tedious labour upon the prisoners at the mill. Orders had been given for the erection of several more mills in England.

DRAMATIC. Mr. Matthews' finished his engagement at Baltimore on Monday evening last. It being his benefit night, the theatre was crowded—such a large and fashionable auditory, it is said, have not been assembled together at that place for a number of years. We understand, Mr. M. goes on to Washington city before he returns to the north.

Mr. Keen (says a late London paper,) has been seriously indisposed, and although convalescent, was unable, at the last accounts, to leave his bed. Lord Byron's forth-coming new tragedy is said to be founded on a Swedish story. Mrs. Cuckle, a lady of well known poetical talents, wrote a tragedy on the same subject a few years ago, which was accepted, and even under rehearsal at the late Drury-lane Theatre, but the fire at that place prevented its representation.

MR. PORTER'S BENEFIT. On Thursday evening next, 24th inst., Mr. Porter, of the Prince-street Theatre, will take his benefit, on which occasion, together with other entertainments, as will be expressed in the bills of that day, will be presented a grand new Melodrama, never before acted, entitled "The Forest of Olivarus; or, the Exiled Nobleman," from the pen of a young gentleman of this city.

As it is the production of a native American, we hope a liberal and discerning public will not be backward in appreciating its merits.

Republican Simplicity.—On Monday last, the 7th inst., the day of Altemar Court, THOMAS JEFFERSON, JAMES MADISON and JAMES MONROE, with several other distinguished citizens, attracted by various arrangements, attended at Charlottesville. It is an agreeable spectacle to see such men meeting together and mingling without any parade with the mass of their countrymen.—None of that absurd pomp which accompanies a royal trip to Dublin or Edinburgh.—No political cause drew these gentlemen together—but the holy cause of Education. The two Ex Presidents and the present President, are visitors of the University of Virginia—for whose interests they were collected.—Richmond Eng.

Private letters from Lexington (Ken.) state that Mr. Clay, who had been seriously indisposed with the bilious fever, is now convalescent.

CRUISE OF THE U. S. S. PORPOISE. Charleston, Oct. 19.—The United States schr. Porpoise, James Hanning, Esq. commander, arrived yesterday in this harbor, from a long interesting cruise on the coast of South America. She has visited St. Barth, St. Thomas, Porto Cabello, Curacao, St. Martin, St. John, and Havana. According to report, it appears that on the coast of Colombia our trade is respected by the naval forces of that republic—but on the contrary, the forces of Spain capture and condemn all vessels they meet with, trading to or from ports in possession of the Patriots.

Porto Cabello is the only place that holds out against the Colombian forces, but it is more than probable that ere this it has surrendered.

The Government of Colombia, in the ports above mentioned, is well organized, and every disposition evinced to favour the commerce of the United States.

The Porpoise parted company with the U. S. ship of war Peacock, Capt. Cassin, 10 days since, off Havana, the crew in good health.

We understand that the Porpoise has the most indisputable and irresistible evidence, in addition to what has already transpired, to prove the practical character of the Panchita, alias Palmira, now in this port.

A Liverpool paper, which has reached us by the late arrival, states the exploits of Lieutenant Midway, of the British navy, during a cruise of three months, on the coast of Africa, which we record for the benefit of negro thieves of all nations. He captured the Spanish schooner Yerman, 266 tons, eight long 18 pounders and two long ones, 55 men, 380 slaves—Spanish schooner Perico, 180 tons, eight long 18 pounders, one long 9, 42 men, 308 slaves—French brig Vigilante, 240 tons, four long 12 pound carronades, 50 men, 238 slaves—French brig Petit Betay, 148 tons, four long 9 pound carronades, 25 men, 213 slaves—French brigantine L'Usule, 150 tons, four 9 pounders, 27 men, 247 slaves.—In the space of three months, one thousand four hundred and twenty-six human beings were released from servitude and chains, and restored to parents, children, friends and country, by the exertions of this gallant officer.—Balt. Morn. Chron.

Ingenuity.—A person named Samuel Rodgers, living in Maurice River Township, in this county, has woven a Shirt in all its parts, complete, without a seam. It is said the wristbands, shoulder straps, collar, and even the button holes, are so ingeniously worked, that it is not necessary to apply the needle to any part of the shirt.—Let the ladies look out or they may soon find our ingenious mechanics superseding them in the use of the needle—and so throw them out of employment altogether. [Bridgeton (N. J.) Whig.]

In the month of May last, the Vienna observatory some new, interesting, and scientifically important experiments with chronometers, made at the observatory of the University; they rose to the extraordinary height of 2000 Vienna fathoms, (37 times the height of the steeple of St. Stephen's Church) at which elevation they spread a dazzling light, which was very visible with the naked eye, at the distance of 20 German (160 English) miles, and even more. This important investigation has been applied to determine the longitude geometrically, for which purpose it is peculiarly calculated. Notwithstanding the unfavourable weather, it is stated that the first essay perfectly succeeded, and the proposed object, was to determine with accuracy the difference of the meridians of Vienna and Offen was fully attained. Another more important experiment will shortly be made.

London Fashions for September.

From Johnson's Repository. BALL DRESS.—Dress of fine tulle over a white satin slip, ornamented nearly half the depth of the skirt with scrolls of pink net and steel,—the latter formed by a large steel button in the centre, and a semi-circle of small steel beads. Short full sleeve, composed of alternate rows of pink net and steel, and white tulle and steel scrolls, confined by a band of pink net and steel. Tuckers, a quilting of the finest tulle. Sash of pink and white embroidered satin ribbon. A wreath of roses confines the hair, which is in ringlets, as in the reign of Charles II. and presented to our admiration in the beautiful paintings by Vanduyke. Necklace, red corneal and pearl. Gloves of white kid—shoes, white gros de Naples.

From La Belle Assemblée. WALKING DRESS.—Round dress, made of blue, of plaid silk, finished at the border by flat wadded rouleaux of green satin, four in number, each rouleau headed by a rich fancy silk cord. The summit of the bust, and of the mancherons, finished with ornaments of the same cord, with fillagree buttons, representing the base of the Scotch thistle. Girdle of black velvet, fastened on one side by a buckle of polished steel. Plain fichu underneath the dress. Scotch bonnet of black gros de Naples, lined with white satin, with a superb Highland plume of white feathers. Blue kid slippers, white gloves, and parasol of thistle purple, with broad white silk fringe.

CALEDONIAN BALL DRESS.—Petticoat of Urfing's patent lace over white satin, the border trimmed with rich festoon picking of net, on each side of which are pear pearls. The interstices of the festoons ornamented with bunches of full blown roses, opposite to which is a thistle. Collage of Tartan plaid, tastefully ornamented with net en bouffant. The sleeves short and very full—the fullness partially confined by straps buttoning in the centre of the sleeve, which is finished round the arm by a quilting of Urfing's lace. Turban of white Chinese gauze diversified with plaid and silver lama gauze, with feathers. Rail earrings, set in the form of St. Andrew's cross, with a necklace composed of large oriental pearls.

NOTE.—ENTRANCE is too highly for insertion this week.

AUTHORITIES. ALL Authorities prove that the teeth can be saved—but never unless mankind are informed. In this city it has been said that public information from the pen of the Dentist is unfashionable—alas the poor teeth. All history proves that man will hesitate, but that woman was never known to refuse her generous aid when the public welfare was in danger. Be fair be cautious, keep this great truth in view, Public information is a friend to you. Williams performs every operation which will save the teeth without giving pain, extracting a tooth only excepted. The teeth are destroyed by pressure—What man can give another cause? England gives none—and it is said that our most eminent dentists approve the English writers on the teeth. The teeth require to be kept clean. For one dollar Williams performs every operation requisite; and fixes teeth in the mouth on moderate terms. Office, No 161 Fine street, near 5th. oct 19-17 B. WILLIAMS, Dentist.

In Chancery of New-Jersey. Between Daniel D. Smith, Complainant,—and Charles F. Lott, John Black, John Earl, and William L. Earl, Defendants. On Bill to foreclose, &c. October 8th, 1822.

IT appearing to the Court, that process of subpoena to appear, &c. hath issued against the above named defendants, and that William L. Earl, has not caused his appearance to be entered, as according to the rules of this Court the same ought to have been entered, in case such process had been duly served; and it also appearing, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the Chancellor, that the said William L. Earl resides out of this state, and in the state of Pennsylvania. Upon opening the matter, this day, to the Court, on behalf of Samuel J. Read, Solicitor of the complainant, the Chancellor doth order and direct the said William L. Earl, to appear, plead, answer, or demur to the complainant's bill of complaint in this cause, on or before the second Tuesday of January next, and in case he shall fail so to do, the complainant's bill shall be taken as confessed against him thereupon, and such decree shall be made as the Chancellor shall deem equitable and just.—And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published within twenty days after the date hereof, in the "New Jersey Mirror," a newspaper printed and published at Miam-Holy, in this state, and be continued therein for the space of six weeks successively, once at least in each week, and also in one of the public newspapers printed and published in the city of Philadelphia, for the space of four weeks successively, once at least in each week.

On the Death of a Scolding Wife.
The bird who sings his own's smiles,
Her blooming cheek and laughing eye,
With amorous plaint the time beguiles,
And fondly thinks his mistress night—
But O! what raptures, when at last
The coy and modest maid relents;
Rejoice him for each sorrow past,
And to the wretched bond assents—
She dies!—his cheek with tears is wet,
His heart with keenest anguish smarting—
"Thou' I felt pleasure when we met,
I think I feel more joy at parting."
October, 1822.

A RIDDLE.
My parent bred me to the sea,
I've been where never man could be;
Long time I've ranged the ocean wide,
And all the rage of storms I defied.
The low'ring clouds around me fled,
The foaming billows mounted high;
The winds with utmost fury blew,
And thunders rolled and lightnings flew,
Waves, winds, and thunders, all in vain,
Opposed my passage through the main.
At length my parent died, and I
On shore would needs my fortune try.
I left the sea—my grief I show,
Dress'd neat, and soon became a beau.
My body's taper, tall, and straight,
I chieftly dwell among the great;
Am like a bridegroom clad in white,
And much the ladies I delight.
Attend when Chloë goes to rest,
She's always by my presence blest;
No ghost or goblin can she fear,
Nor midnight hag, if I am near.
No more a seaman bold and rough,
I shine at balls, am fond of stuff—
To gay assemblies I repair,
And make a flaming figure there.

The Captain of a vessel when going up to the wharf, ordered an Irishman to throw over the buoy. Going below for a few moments, he failed to his Irish servant to know whether he had done it.—"May it please your honour," (replied he,) "I could not catch the boy so I threw over the old cook!"

In England lately, a field preacher, who had been a printer, observed in his usual harangue, that "youth might be compared to a comma, manhood to a semi-colon;
and age to a colon: to which death put a period."

When can a man be said to be over head and ears in debt?—Ans. When he has a nat-on, which is not paid for.

Curious Typographical Error.—The celebrated printer, Henry Estienne, son of Robert, (both known in the learned world by the name of Ste-phanus,) once engaged in the printing of a splendid quarto Miscell. The great number of subscribers seemed likely to make ample compensation
for the heavy expense required by the undertaking.
After the sheets had been corrected with the utmost care, the work was printed off, splendidly bound, and delivered to the subscribers. It would be impossible to describe the astonishment of the learned printer, when one copy after another were returned to him, till all were sent back. He enquired the cause of this extraordinary circumstance, and was informed, that in one place the compo-sitor had put le le pretre olercau culotte. (Here the Printer will take off his breeches,) instead of culotte, (small black cap), and the error escaped the cor-rectors of the press. In vain did the poor printer offer to make a caveat, the subscribers who were almost all ecclesiastics, positively refused to take the work on any terms. This unfortunate affair is said to have been the first and chief cause of the derangement which afterwards caused Henry Estienne to be confined in the Lunatic Hospital at Lyons, where he died in 1698. There is a copy of the Miscell with this unlucky error, in the Royal Library at Paris.—English p. p.

Dr. Arbuthnot says, a constant adherence to one sort of diet, may have had effects on any constitution. Nature has provided a great variety of non-ishment for human creatures, and furnished us with appetites to desire, and organs to digest them.
An unvarying regularity is almost impracticable,
and the swerving from it, when it has grown habitual, dangerous for every unusual thing in a human body becomes stimulus as wine, or flesh meat,
to one not used to them; therefore, Celius's rule,
with proper moral restrictions, is a good one.
Celius very sensibly says, that "a healthy man,
under his own government, ought not to be himself up by strict rules—nor to abstain from any sort of food; that he ought sometimes to fast, and sometimes to eat."

OLD COLUMBIAN
COACH LINE
For NEW YORK.

Through in Twelve Hours.
VIA Bordentown and South Amboy, and only 30 miles land carriage, over a gravelled turnpike.
First line leaves the upper side of Market street wharf, every morning, at 6 o'clock, and arrives in New-York by steam boat Olive Branch, at six o'clock same evening. Breakfast and dine on board. Fare only $4.
Second line leaves the same wharf every day, (Sundays excepted) at 12 o'clock. Take coach at Bordentown, proceed to Perry's Hotel, South Amboy, where they lodge, and from thence by steam boat to New-York, where they arrive at 10 o'clock next morning. Fare only $2 50.
This line is inferior to none between the two cities as the coaches are all new, good horses, with careful drivers. The proprietors therefore solicit a share of public patronage.
For seats apply at Volpe's Hotel, North Fourth street, C. Bailey, U. S. Mail and Express Coach Office, No. 30, south Third street, and at the steam boat office, No. 3. Market street.

Dancing School Removed,
From the corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets to
No. 62 1/2 FOURTH STREET.
Third door below Library street.

BOONAFON is happy in announcing to his
A. friends and the public, that owing to their very liberal patronage, he has been induced to remove to the above room, being more spacious than his former. The expenses to which he has been, in altering and repairing, so as to render it both elegant and comfortable, together with the situation, will combine to render this room much more preferable than his former, and perhaps more so than any in this city.
He will there open his Dancing School on Monday, the 30th inst. and continue to teach on the same method as heretofore, the advantages of which he believes has been fully tested by the rapid improvement of his pupils. He proposes having Edition Parties, to which his scholars will be admitted without extra charge. In commencing in the beginning of December next, by which time beginners will be able to participate in the amusements they afford, as also in a collection of the newest fancy and characteristic dances and cotillons, obtained from a teacher of New York, recently from Europe.
For terms and hours of tuition, apply at the room, or his dwelling, No. 100 Union Street, a few doors below Fourth street.
Days of Tuition, at the room, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The other three days of the week devoted to Seminars and Private Families, as usual.
These ladies who have received season tickets to his Balls, will please forward their directions to his dwelling, as soon as possible.

The Geography of the World
IN general, and of the United States in particular, rendered easy and familiar in a course of fifteen or twenty five Lectures, (each one hour and a half,) in the large hall of the Writing Academy, near the Post Office. Price, two Dollars for the whole course, (given at entrance.) Ladies and Gentlemen may attend in different classes, every day, or every other day, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and at 8 o'clock in the evening. Other arrangements will be made to suit all who apply.
The improved plan of these Lectures will render the different countries as familiar as the streets and squares of Philadelphia are to its citizens, or as the fields and lots of a plantation are to those who frequently walk over and survey them with the eye. The plan is the result of long attention to the subject, and much preparation, by drawing the largest and boldest featured Maps that were probably ever seen in the United States before.
On these, the learner surveys Oceans, Continents, Islands, Mountains, Rivers, Empires, States, and Kingdoms, as a wide extended landscape
from a lofty elevation. By this means the mind comprehends them without an effort—they make a pleasing and lasting impression on the memory.
N. B. It is not necessary to commence on any particular day, though, the sooner persons commence, the longer time will they have to go through the Course.—The Lessons, in Writing, are now attended by between two and three hundred, with a daily and hourly increase—and, as a proposal,
for the last time of my teaching in Philadelphia,
at least for many years, the respectable citizens are informed, that all who commence, between this and the 10th of October, may attend as much as they please (either at the GEOGRAPHICAL Lectures or LESSONS in WRITING, according as they engage for) until the end of six weeks from this date, and no additional charge will be made after the small amount of entrance money.—The Writing Department will still receive that strict attention which a liberal patronage seems to demand.

tants of the United States and elsewhere,
that he has discovered, by the power of chemistry,
the grand desideratum of preventing the hair from falling off, in the short space of FORTY-EIGHT HOURS after the first application.
This Balm will also restore hair on bald places,
and speedily cure the dandruff. He now considers it altogether useless to continue to give signatures, its utility being universally known in Philadelphia, and hundreds are at this time receiving their hair again. J. O. begs leave to return thanks to the generous Americans, for the liberal encouagement bestowed upon his capillary restorative since its first discovery, and hopes to merit a con-
